Packed winery a crowded house

Music legend Tim Finn brought Woodside winery Bird in Hand to life, performing in front of 2500 people on Saturday night.

The NZ rock star played hits from his Split Enz and Crowded House days to the delight of the crowd gathered on the winery's lawns.

The outdoor concert is the latest in a string of events at the winery that have drawn big-name stars to the Hills, including Kate Ceberano, James Morrison and Sarah McLeod.

Hundreds of VIP guests were treated to dinner matched with Bird in Hand wines before the concert, while general admission ticket holders enjoyed food from stallholders.

The winery also used the evening to launch its new luxury collection of accessories, designed by Woodside stylist and former international model

Paul Giles. The range includes bags, purses and scarves, with knitted items made by the Gumeracha Spinners and Weavers from locally grown Merino wool blended with silk, alpaca and camel.

Launching Bird in Hand's new luxury accessory range were Nicky Buckley, with product designer Paul Giles, of Woodside, and his wife Jacinta Smart.
